

Targeted consultation on the listing act: making public capital markets more attractive for EU companies and facilitating access to capital for SMEs

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction

Background for this consultation

EU capital markets remain underdeveloped in size, notably in comparison to capital markets in other major jurisdictions. In particular, EU companies make less use of capital markets for debt and equity financing than their peers in other jurisdictions around the world, with a negative impact on economic growth and macroeconomic resilience.

In recognition of these issues, the Commission's new capital markets union \(CMU\) action plan of September 2020 has as one of its main objectives to ensure that companies, and in particular small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), have unimpeded access to the most suitable form of financing. Given the underdevelopment of market-based finance in the EU, the Commission highlighted the need to support the access of businesses in particular to public markets. Specifically, in Action 2 of the action plan, the Commission announced that it will assess whether the rules governing companies' listing on public markets need to be further simplified. Furthermore, Commission President von der Leyen announced in her letter of intent addressed to Parliament and the Presidency of the Council on 15 September 2021 a legislative proposal for 2022 to facilitate SMEs' access to capital.

In order to inform its further initiatives in this area, the Commission has already taken a number of steps. The Commission has commissioned studies on the topic of how to improve the access to capital markets by companies in the EU and on the functioning of primary and secondary markets in the EU. Furthermore, in October 2020, the Commission set up a Technical Expert Stakeholder Group (TESG) on SMEs to monitor the functioning and success of SME growth markets. In May 2021, the TESG published their final report on the empowerment of EU capital markets for SMEs with twelve concrete recommendations to the Commission and Member States to help foster SMEs' access to public markets. They build on the work already undertaken by the High Level Forum on capital markets union \(CMU HLF\) and on ESMA's recently published MiFID II review report on the functioning of the regime for SME growth markets.

Structure of this consultation and how to respond

In line with the better regulation principles, the Commission is launching this targeted consultation to gather evidence in the form of stakeholders' views on the need to make listing on EU public markets more attractive for companies and on ways of doing so. The Commission is also seeking views regarding specific ways of listing, including via Special Purpose Acquisition Companies (SPACs). A special focus is dedicated to SMEs and issuers listed on SME growth markets.

For the purposes of this consultation, the reference to SMEs should be understood as encompassing both SMEs as defined in the Commission Recommendation 2003/361 and SMEs as defined in Article 4(1)(13) of MiFID II. The Commission Recommendation 2003/361 classifies as SMEs companies that employ fewer than 250 people and have a turnover not exceeding EUR 50 million and/or a balance sheet not exceeding EUR 43 million. MiFID II classifies SMEs as companies that had an average market capitalisation of less than EUR 200 million on the basis of end-year quotes for the previous three calendar years. The concept of SME growth markets was introduced by MiFID II as a new category of multilateral trading facilities (MTFs) to facilitate high-growth SMEs' access to public markets and increase their funding opportunities. In order to be registered as an SME growth market, an MTF must comply with the requirements laid down in Article 33 of MiFID II, including the rule that at least '50% of issuers are SMEs'.

This targeted consultation is available in English only. It is split into two main sections. The first section contains general questions and aims at gathering views on stakeholders' experience with the current listing rules and the possible need to adapt those rules. The second section seeks views from stakeholders on various technical aspects of the current listing rules, with questions grouped according to the legal act that they pertain to.

In parallel to this targeted consultation, the Commission is launching an open public consultation which covers only general questions and is available in 23 official EU languages. As the general questions are asked in both questionnaires, we advise stakeholders to reply to only one of the two versions (either the targeted consultation or the open public consultation) to avoid unnecessary duplications. Please note that replies to both questionnaires will be equally considered.

Views are welcome from all stakeholders. You are invited to provide feedback on the questions raised in this online questionnaire. We invite you to add any documents and/or data that you would deem useful to accompany your replies at the end of this questionnaire, and only through the questionnaire. Please explain your responses and, as far as possible, illustrate them with concrete examples and substantiate them numerically with supporting data and empirical evidence. This will allow further analytical elaboration.

You are requested to read the specific privacy statement attached to this consultation for information on how your personal data and contribution will be dealt with.

The consultation will be open for 12 weeks.

Please note: In order to ensure a fair and transparent consultation process only responses received through our online questionnaire will be taken into account and included in the report summarising the responses. Should you have a problem completing this questionnaire or if you require particular assistance, please contact fisma-listing-act@ec.europa.eu.

1. General questions on the overall functioning of the regulatory framework

The current EU rules relevant for company listing consist of provisions contained in a number of legal acts, such as the Prospectus Regulation, the Market Abuse Regulation \(MAR\), the Market in Financial Instruments Directive \(MiFID II\), the Market in Financial Instruments Regulation \(MiFIR\) the Transparency Directive and the Listing Directive. These rules primarily aim at balancing the facilitation of companies' access to EU public markets with an adequate level of investor protection, while also pursuing a number of secondary or overarching objectives.

Question 1. In your view, has EU legislation relating to company listing been successful in achieving the following objectives?

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 1:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Market data indicate that during the last decade equity listings in EU public markets have been steadily decreasing, whereas at the same time, the real economy has been flourishing. More specifically, the number of listings in the EU declined by 12% between 2010 and 2018, while GDP grew by 24% over the same period. The investigation of the number of approved prospectuses across the EU from 2010 to 2020 reveals the same picture, as their number was significantly decreased by 32%. The above indicate clearly that the companies' appetite to access capital markets has tremendously shrunk. Market conditions also suggest that even though listings have been declining in number, the total market capitalisation of public companies has increased. Therefore, the propensity towards remaining or returning (delisting) to the private market, is more acute in SMEs. According to empirical evidence, private companies do not get listed, among other factors (attractiveness of alternative sources of finance such as private equity or debt), in order to avoid the relevant regulatory burden. The latter emerges from the disclosure obligations that regulatory rules impose on market participants. Hence, in that sense, the reduction of companies' listings is to be attributed, among others, to the EU regulatory framework. Especially for SMEs, the cost of complying with disclosure obligations is quite onerous and affects greatly the cost-benefit analysis of their listing decision.

Nevertheless, the rationale behind those, admittedly burdensome, legal rules, lies in the strengthening of market efficiency, the mitigation of agency problems and the protection of retail investors by reducing the information asymmetry between them and issuers. The latter goal has been achieved to a great extent. Notwithstanding that, and as it will be indicated in subsequent questions, more efficient and, in some cases, proportionate measures could be utilised for alleviating the information asymmetry between issuers and retail investors.

At the same time, free-float requirements, imposed by the Listing Directive, represent an additional barrier for the access of some companies, especially family-owned SMEs, in capital markets. The risk of losing control over the company, which is inherent in public companies, is exacerbated by free-float requirements and the absence of an EU-wide legal regime which recognises and guarantees multiple-class share schemes, which would ameliorate the risk of losing control. Due to the above risk, a great number of companies opt to stay private.

Market conditions also reveal that, especially in the primary market, the participation of professional investors is prevalent, whereas only a small, one-digit percentage of the issued capital is subscribed by retail investors. This phenomenon, which is linked with the absence of a legal framework which will motivate retail investors to take part in IPOs, can be conceptualised in a twofold fashion. On the one hand, the dominant presence of professional investors promotes market efficiency (especially information efficiency), but at the same time infringes the democratic foundations of capital markets and undermines the success of SMEs' IPOs. With regard to the secondary market, even though retail investors have direct access to listed equities, the obligation of issuers to comply with strict disclosure rules even for follow-up issues, creates important burdens for them.

In conclusion, the EU legal framework governing public markets has been in principle successful in achieving its goals of protecting retail investors. Concurrently, it has played an undisputed role in driving market participants away (in particular retail investors) from capital markets. Public markets promote social welfare and thus regulators should constantly adapt their policy in order for the markets to remain a competitive means of raising capital.

As noted by numerous stakeholders and recognised in the CMU action plan, public listing in the EU is currently too cumbersome and costly, especially for SMEs. The Oxera report on primary and secondary equity markets in the EU stated that the number of listings in the EU-28 declined by 12%, from 7,392 in 2010 to 6,538 in 2018, while GDP grew by 24% over the same period. As a corollary of this, EU public markets for capital remain depressed, notably in comparison to public markets in other jurisdictions with more developed financial markets overall. Weak EU capital markets negatively impact the funding structure and cost of capital of EU companies which currently over rely on credit when compared to other developed economies.

Question 2. In your opinion, how important are the below factors in explaining the lack of attractiveness of EU public markets?

a) Regulated markets:

	1 (not important)	2 (rather not important)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather important)	5 (very important)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable

The costs of complying with disclosure obligations are indeed affecting the attractiveness of public markets. The regulatory burden of being listed is more acute in regulated markets than in MTFs or OTFs where the Prospectus Regulation is not applicable. That burden falls heavier on SME issuers. SMEs are disproportionately burdened by disclosure obligations compared with larger listed companies. The fixed costs of producing the required information represent a substantial percentage of the anticipated benefits of their IPO. This is true despite novel provisions, like the EU Growth Prospectus, which, as depicted in market data, has not been widely used yet.

Additionally, another important factor driving companies to stay private is the fear of losing control. Free-float rules expose issuers' owners to the risk of losing control over their company. The intensity of this risk is quite apparent in family-owned SMEs. A possible solution to this problem could be given by multiple-class share schemes, which can guarantee to the existing shareholders a number of voting rights that are sufficient for retaining control over their company. This solution comes with specific disadvantages. The concentration of ownership and control, on one hand, mitigates the risk of losing control over the company and on the other hand, creates agency problems between majority and minority shareholders. Empirical evidence suggests that companies with high concentration in control are traded at a discount. Nevertheless, the introduction of sunset clauses could ameliorate the negative effects of concentrated control.

With regard to SMEs' securities, they have a number of particularities that constitute them unattractive for investors and even for trading venues. Performing the necessary due diligent analysis seems inefficient for investors since the anticipated revenues from an investment in SME shares are quite repressed. On top of that, the inherent illiquidity of those instruments drives professional investors away, who prefer to wait for those instruments' liquidity to be tested before investing in them. Illiquidity puzzle trading venues as well, which, in an attempt to counter this characteristic, might employ the services of market-makers. The above matters depress the demand for SME issues and alongside the disproportionate cost of SMEs' listing, which depresses the supply of such issues and the overall liquidity of the markets, set tremendous barriers to the development of SMEs markets.

c) Other markets (e.g. other MTFs, OTFs):

Companies, in particular SMEs, do not consider listing in the EU as an easy and affordable means of financing and may also find it difficult to stay listed due to on-going listing requirements and costs. More specifically, the new CMU action plan identified factors such as high administrative burden, high costs of listing and compliance with listing rules once listed as discouraging for many companies, especially SMEs, from accessing public markets. When taking a decision on whether or not to go public, companies weigh expected benefits against costs of listing. If costs are higher than benefits or if alternative sources of financing offer a less costly option, companies will not seek access to public markets. This de facto limits the range of available funding options for companies willing to scale up and grow.

Question 3. In your view, what is the relative importance of each of the below costs in respect to the overall cost of an initial public offering (IPO)?

a) Direct costs:

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 3:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Market data suggest that the initial costs of an initial public offering or listing in regulated markets are to be mainly attributed to indirect costs and more specifically to the costs of complying with the Prospectus Regulation. Apart from the fees paid to the underwriter, legal advisor and auditors, issuers, in particular SMEs, bear the indirect costs of delayed time to market, due to lengthy and uncertain approval processes by national competent authorities and a legal framework for prospectus approval which has become more rigid, complex and burdensome.

After their initial listing, companies continue to incur a number of costs that derive from being listed. These costs can be both indirect such as those derived from compliance and regulation requirements and direct such as fees paid to the listing venue. In some cases companies may choose to voluntarily delist in order to avoid these costs which can be viewed as excessive, especially for SMEs.

Question 4. In your view, what is the relative importance of each of the below costs in respect to the overall costs that a company incurs while being listed?

a) Direct costs:

	1 (very low)	2 (rather low)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather high)	5 (very high)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable

The direct ongoing costs that issuers incur while listed, are on average and especially for large issuers, insignificant. This might not be true for small issuers. The rationale presented above, equally applies to ongoing direct costs. SMEs raise small amounts of capital when going public and thus all costs associated with the listing represent a considerable percentage of their anticipated proceeds.

Despite the above, issuers are mainly disincentivized from going public due to the indirect ongoing costs of doing so. The litigation risk or the probability of being sanctioned by public authorities due to infringement of ongoing disclosure obligations arising from the Market Abuse Regulation, constitute a considerable cost associated with a listing of securities. Furthermore, the exacerbation of agency problems, which is empirically proven to be correlated with the fragmentation of ownership, and the risk of losing control over the listed company, are perceived as the most important cost linked to the listing. Both of the above, are risks which cannot be easily quantified. Nonetheless, the manner that they are conceptualised by market participants, seems to indicate that they play a pivotal role in determining the decision of companies to stay private.

In order to comply with all regulatory requirements such as those included in the MAR or the Prospectus Regulation, companies have to invest time and resources. This may be seen as a disproportionate burden compared to the advantages this may bring in terms of investors protection.

Question 5.1 In your view, does compliance with IPO listing requirements create a burden disproportionate with the investor protection objectives that these rules are meant to achieve?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 5.1:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

The rationale behind mandatory public provision of information is, among the strengthen of market efficiency and mitigation of agency problems, the protection of retail investors by alleviating the information asymmetry between the issuer and the investors. This goal is pursued through the publication of a prospectus, containing information on the issuer and the issued securities. As empirical studies suggest, the average length of a prospectus can range between 300 to 800 pages across the EU. The length of the document can be perceived as being problematic.

It could be argued that the present regulatory framework should be reformed to account for behavioural considerations, which suggest that retail investors are characterized by bounded rationality and inability to assess a large quantity of information. This would mean that the information provided in the prospectus cannot be used to the fullest possible extent by retail investors. This results in a situation where issuers incur the regulatory burden associated with disclosure, but the scope of those rules is not fully achieved, as retail investors are incapable of assessing the provided information and thus are not protected by the existing information asymmetry. In other words, the restrictions imposed on market participants, are not as efficient as they could be.

In view of the above, certain steps have already been taken towards that direction, such as introducing the obligation of the issuer to use simple and clear language or the concept of prospectus summary which accompanies the main body of the prospectus and the length of which is predetermined and quite short. However, these requirements conflict with the extensive disclosure obligations required under the Prospectus Regulation and the practice of national competent authorities. Additional provisions concerning the length of the prospectus or its further simplification should be introduced, together with clear instructions to national competent authorities that extensive unnecessary disclosure may often prove to be counterproductive.

In this respect, the Prospectus Regulation, like the Prospectus Directive, allows national competent authorities to grant exemptions. However, while the wording remained the same, the practice has become uncertain and lengthier, with no guidance to prospectus issuers on the conditions to receive an exemption. The above inefficiency becomes even more acute for SMEs issuers, for whom the regulatory burden is more onerous and which often present peculiar structures which do not fit in the disclosure framework of the Prospectus Regulation. The disproportionality of the disclosure burdens in SMEs becomes even more profound when the magnitude of the SMEs' market failure is accentuated. More specifically, for SMEs' listings, the negative externality of their failure, it being information asymmetry which destabilises market confidence, is lower than the one for large corporations. Admittedly, following an SME failure, market confidence will be only insignificantly affected.

It is true that regulators have already introduced concepts which account for the above considerations (for example the EU Growth Prospectus). Notwithstanding that, it could be argued that specific amendments of the current regime or the introduction of special provisions are not sufficient for catering to the SMEs' needs. Thus, the regulatory system should shift perspective. Instead of investor information, focus should be given to investor enablement. Such perspective can be conceptualised as a regime with the aim of disincentivizing issuers from attempting to defraud the (retail) investors. This regime, applied in particular for SME issuances, where negative externalities are significantly constrained, could find a balance between investor protection, market efficiency and proportionate encumbrance of SME issuers.

Question 5.2 In your view, does compliance with post-IPO listing requirements create a burden disproportionate with the investor protection objectives that these rules are meant to achieve?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 5.2:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Equally applicable to the secondary market are the arguments stated in question 5(a). Indeed, the inherent inability of retail investors to assess large quantity of information and the fact that listed companies with different sizes have different needs are factors which affect the efficiency of regulatory rules governing the secondary market.

Public markets are not flexible enough to accommodate companies’ financing needs. This lack of flexibility may be driven by regulatory constraints (e.g. concerning the ability of companies owners to retain control of their business when going public by issuing shares with multiple voting rights), as well as by the lack of legal clarity in relevant legislation (e.g. the conditions under which a company may seek dual listing). Regulatory constraints or legal uncertainty may discourage the use of public markets by firms that find requirements inadequate or unclear.

Question 6. In your view, would the below measures, aimed at improving the flexibility for issuers, increase EU companies’ propensity to access public markets?

	Yes	No	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
Allow issuers to use shares with multiple voting rights when going public	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Special regime for SMEs

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 6:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

As discussed above, one of the main factors that prevent issuers from getting listed is the risk of losing control over their company. Thus, measures aiming to establish an EU-wide legal framework allowing the issuance and listing of multiple-class shares, or to lower the minimum free float requirements, will definitely play a role of paramount importance in making public capital markets more attractive to issuers. The use of dual-class shares, giving excessive voting rights to the existing or founding shareholders, will instil the feeling of safety in them, making the decision to list more alluring. In the same context, lower minimum float requirements will guard the position of existing or founding shareholders. Nevertheless, float requirements should not be completely abolished, as a certain extent of dispersity mitigates agency problems arising between major and minor shareholders. The mitigation of the latter prevents the application of control risk premia in the issued shares.

Establishing a clearer and more cohesive legal framework for dual listing will most probably avail issuers located outside the EU who would like to get listed in an EU market in order to demonstrate their ability to adhere to stricter corporate governance rules, and thus, strengthen their reputation.

Finally, regulators should consider the introduction of a novel regime, specifically designed for SME issuers, since the latter are the ones experiencing in the most acute manner the barriers for entering into the public markets. Initiatives such as the EU Growth Market Prospectus are structured in the right direction.

Nonetheless, their architecture is based on amendments made to the existing framework which is addressed to all market participants. The special features and needs of SME issuers dictate the conceptualisation of a new system which will be built from zero and specially structured in order to cater to all the special needs of SMEs. This reasoning has been applied in other sectors, such as the introduction of a special legal framework for SME-debt covered bonds (European Secured Notes), which does not simply deviate from that of covered bonds, but sets novel and special ground rules, addressed particularly to SMEs.

The lack of available company research and insufficient liquidity discourage investors from investing in some listed securities. Many securities issued by SMEs in the EU are characterised by lower liquidity and higher illiquidity premium, which may be the direct result of how these companies are perceived by investors, in particular institutional investors, who do not find them sufficiently attractive. Furthermore, institutional investors may fear reputational risk when investing in companies listed on multilateral trading facilities, including SME growth markets, given the lack of minimum corporate governance requirements for issuers on those venues.

Question 7. In your view, what are the main factors that explain why the level of institutional and retail investments in SME shares and bonds remains low in the EU?

	1 (not important)	2 (rather not important)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather important)	5 (very important)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
Lack of visibility and attractiveness of SMEs towards investors leading to a lack of liquidity for SME shares and bonds	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Other	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

SME securities present certain particularities that affect their attractiveness. Investing in shares issued by an SME is associated with due diligence costs, which usually seem disproportionate to the anticipated return. Performing a background analysis in SMEs is sometimes challenging since historical data are limited. The performance of their shares is also quite volatile and risky. In that context, professional investors tend to abstain from investing in SMEs' instruments, especially during the public offering phase but even in the secondary market. This results in SME shares and debt instruments having reduced liquidity. Indeed, the depth of SME markets is quite limited and, in some cases, there are even zero-trading days. The illiquidity of those instruments plays a pivotal role in their attractiveness and affects the demand from both professional investors and trading venues.

On top of the above, it is being witnessed that financial professionals and advisers, seem to refrain from getting involved in public offerings performed by SMEs. The suppression of their benefits, rooted in the small amounts usually issued in SME issuances, has resulted in their hesitation to participate in SMEs' public offerings.

Finally, retail participation in SMEs' public offerings could enhance their liquidity and attractiveness. Retailers who are interested in the above instruments are by definition less risk-averse and can contribute significantly to the attractiveness and liquidity of the issued instruments.

2.1 Prospectus Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 14 June 2017 on the prospectus to be published when securities are offered to the public or admitted to trading on a regulated market)

The Prospectus Regulation \(Regulation \(EU\) 2017/1129\), which started applying in July 2019, lays down the rules governing the prospectus that must be made available to the public when a company makes an offer to the public or an admission to trading of transferable securities on a regulated market in the EU. The prospectus is a legal document that contains information about the issuer (e.g. main line of business, finances and shareholding structure) and the securities offered to the public or to be admitted to trading on a regulated market. A prospectus has to be approved by the competent authority of the home Member State before the beginning of the offer or the admission to trading of the securities.

The Prospectus Regulation has been subject to targeted amendments

- i. at the end of 2019 under the SME Listing Act
- ii. in 2020 under the Crowdfunding Regulation
- iii. and in 2021 under the capital markets recovery package

However, the prospectus regime remains to be seen by some as burdensome and unfit for attracting companies, in particular SMEs, to public markets. Both the CMU High Level Forum \(HLF\) and the TESG have highlighted that the process of drawing up a prospectus and getting it approved by the relevant national competent authority is expensive, complex and time-consuming and that targeted yet ambitious simplification of prospectus rules could reduce significantly compliance costs for companies and lower obstacles to tapping public markets.

This section aims at gathering respondents' views on the costs stemming from the application of the prospectus regime as well as on which requirements are most burdensome and how it would be possible to alleviate them without impairing investor protection and the overall transparency regime. Furthermore, this section aims to examine other aspects of the Prospectus Regulation, such as the functioning of the thresholds for exemptions from the obligation to publish a prospectus, the language regime and rules concerning the approval and publication of prospectuses.

2.1.1. Costs stemming from the drawing up of a prospectus

Analysis conducted by Oxera highlights that the efforts required to comply with the regulatory requirements associated with the listing process, and the litigation risk that could emerge, are often cited by industry practitioners as the most significant indirect costs of listing. In particular, many issuers stressed, as a high and growing cost to listing, the increased length and complexity of the prospectus documentation.

Question 8.1. As an issuer or an offeror, could you provide an estimation for the average cost of the prospectuses listed below (in EUR amount)? If necessary, please provide different estimations per type of prospectus (e.g. prospectus for an IPO, for a right issue, for a convertible bond, for a corporate bond, for an EMTN programme).

Prospectus Type	Estimation for the average cost in EUR

2.1.2. Circumstances when a prospectus is not needed

The Prospectus Regulation currently lays down several exemptions for the offer of securities to the public (Article 1(4) and 3(2)) or the admission to trading of securities on a regulated market (Article 1(5)). Moreover, the Prospectus Regulation does not apply to offers of securities to the public below EUR 1 million, in accordance with the conditions laid down in Article 1(3).

Question 12.1 Would you be in favour of adjusting the current prospectus exemptions so that a larger number of offers can be carried out without a prospectus?

a) Exemptions for offers of securities to the public (Article 1(4) of the Prospectus Regulation):

Please select as many answers as you like

- i. An offer of securities addressed to fewer than 150 natural or legal persons per Member State, other than qualified investors (Article 1(4), point (b))
- ii. An offer of securities whose denomination per unit amounts to at least EUR 100 000 (Article 1(4), point (c))
- iii. An offer of securities addressed to investors who acquire securities for a total consideration of at least EUR 100 000 per investor, for each separate offer (Article 1(4), point (d))
- iv. Other exemptions

b) Exemptions for the admission to trading on a regulated market (Article 1(5) of the Prospectus Regulation):

Please select as many answers as you like

- i. Securities fungible with securities already admitted to trading on the same regulated market, provided that they represent, over a period of 12 months, less than 20 % of the number of securities already admitted to trading on the same regulated market (Article 1(5), first subparagraph, point (a))
- ii. Shares resulting from the conversion or exchange of other securities or from the exercise of the rights conferred by other securities, where the resulting shares are of the same class as the shares already admitted to trading on the same regulated market, provided that the resulting shares represent, over a period of 12 months, less than 20 % of the number of shares of the same class already admitted to trading on the same regulated market, subject to the second subparagraph of this paragraph (Article 1(5), first subparagraph, point (b))
- iii. Other exemptions

c) Exemptions applicable to both the offer of securities to the public and admission to trading on a regulated market:

Please select as many answers as you like

- i. Non-equity securities issued in a continuous or repeated manner by a credit institution, where the total aggregated consideration in the Union for the securities offered is less than EUR 75 000 000 per credit institution calculated over a period of 12 months, provided that those securities: 1. are not subordinated, convertible or exchangeable; and 2. do not give a right to subscribe for or acquire other types of securities and are not linked to a derivative instrument (Article 1(4), point (j) and Article 1(5), first subparagraph, point (i)).
- ii. From 18 March 2021 to 31 December 2022, non-equity securities issued in a continuous or repeated manner by a credit institution, where the total aggregated consideration in the Union for the securities offered is less than EUR 150 000 000 per credit institution calculated over a period of 12 months, provided that those securities: 1. are not subordinated, convertible or exchangeable; and 2. do not give a right to subscribe for or acquire other types of securities and are not linked to a derivative instrument (Article 1(4), point (l), and Article 1(5), first subparagraph, point (k))
- iii. Other exemptions

Question 12.2 Would you consider that more clarity should be provided on the application of the various thresholds below which no prospectus is required under the Prospectus Regulation (e.g. on total consideration of the offer and calculation of the 12 month-period)?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 12.3 Could any additional types of offers of securities to public and admissions to trading on a regulated market be carried out without a prospectus while maintaining adequate investor protection?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 13.1 The exemption thresholds in Articles 1(3) and 3(2) are designed to strike an appropriate balance between investor protection and alleviating the administrative burden on small issuers for small offers. If you consider that these thresholds should be adjusted so that a larger number of offers can be carried out without a prospectus, please indicate your preferred threshold in the table below.

Provision	Preferred Threshold
Article 1(3) of the Prospectus Regulation. Explanation: Offer of securities to the public with a total consideration in the Union of less than EUR 1 000 000, which shall be calculated over a period of 12 months, are out of scope of the Prospectus Regulation. Existing Threshold: EUR 1 000 000
Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Regulation. Explanation: Member States may decide to exempt offers of securities to the public from the obligation to publish a prospectus provided that such offers do not require notification (passporting) and the total consideration of each such offer in the Union is less than a monetary amount calculated over a period of 12 months which shall not exceed EUR 8 000 000. Existing Threshold: EUR 8 000 000 (Upper threshold)

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 13.1:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 13.2 Do you agree with Member States exercising their discretion over the threshold set out in Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Regulation with a view to tailoring it to national specificities of their markets?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 13.2:

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.1.3 The standard prospectus for offers of securities to the public or admission to trading of securities on a regulated market (primary issuances)

Several industry practitioners have stressed that the increasing length and complexity of the prospectus documentation is one of the most important costs associated to the listing process. According to a survey which analysed the average length of the IPO prospectus for the 10 most recent IPOs in the main EU markets as of March 2019, the median length of an IPO prospectus was 400 pages in Europe, with significant divergence among countries, ranging from 250 pages in the Netherlands to over 800 pages in Italy.

The excessive length – and thus high cost – of a prospectus is deemed particularly challenging for smaller issuers of both equity and non-equity securities. Data show that there is currently little proportionality with respect to the length of the IPO prospectus based on the size of the issuer: the mean number of pages for issuers with a market capitalisation between EUR 150 million and EUR 1 billion is even higher than for issuers with a market capitalisation above EUR 1 billion (577 versus 514 pages, respectively).

General issues

Question 14.1 Do you think that the standard prospectus for an offer of securities to the public or an admission to trading of securities on a regulated market in its current form strikes an appropriate balance between effective investor protection and the proportionate administrative burden for issuers?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 15. Would you support introducing a maximum page limit to the standard prospectus?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Prospectus summary

The prospectus summary is one of the three components of a prospectus (alongside the registration document and the securities note). Its purpose is to provide, in a concise manner and in non-technical language, the key information that investors need in order to understand the nature and the risks of the issuer, the guarantor and the securities that are being offered to the public or admitted to trading on a regulated market. The prospectus summary is to be read together with the other parts of the prospectus, to aid investors, particularly retail investors, when considering whether to invest in such securities. Views are welcome as to whether room for improvement exists.

Question 16. Do you believe that the prospectus summary regime has achieved its objectives (i.e. make the summary short, simple, clear and easy for investors to understand)?

	Yes	No	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable

Incorporation by reference

The “incorporation by reference” mechanism allows the information contained in one of the documents listed in Article 19(1) of the Prospectus Regulation to be incorporated into a prospectus by including a reference. However, this information must have already been previously or simultaneously published electronically and drawn up in a language fulfilling the language requirements laid down in Article 27 of the Prospectus Regulation. Incorporation by reference facilitates the procedure of drawing up a prospectus and lowers the costs for issuers.

Question 17. Would you suggest any improvement to the existing rules on incorporation by reference, including amending or expanding the list of information that can be incorporated by reference?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know/ no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 17:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

The standard prospectus for non-equity securities

In the Prospectus Regulation non-equity securities are subject to specific rules, such as the possibility to draw up a base prospectus (normally for offering programs) and the dual regime for retail non-equity securities versus wholesale non-equity securities. The latter are non-equity securities that have a denomination per unit of at least EUR 100 000 or that are to be traded only on a regulated market, or a specific segment thereof, to which only qualified investors can have access for the purposes of trading in those securities. Wholesale non-equity securities are exempted from the prospectus for the offer to the public and are entitled to a lighter prospectus for the admission to trading on a regulated market (e.g. no prospectus summary, flexible language requirement, lighter disclosures), as set out in Commission Delegated Regulation \(EU\) 2019/980.

Question 18.1 Do you think that the prospectus (including the base prospectus) for non-equity securities, with differentiated rules for the admission to trading on a regulated market of retail and wholesale non-equity securities, has been successful in facilitating fundraising through capital markets?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know/ no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 18.1:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Yes, the regime has been successful in facilitating fundraising through capital markets. The investor-based differentiation of disclosure requirements ensures that the disclosure standard is appropriately tailored to the needs of these two investor classes. It should be noted that the wholesale regime is crucial for the functioning of the Eurobond market and should remain intact.

Question 18.2 Would you be in favour of further aligning the prospectus for retail non-equity securities with the prospectus for wholesale non-equity securities, to make the retail prospectus lighter and easier to be read?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know/ no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 18.2:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Given the difference in knowledge between these two investor groups, the potential for alignment of the retail disclosure regime with the wholesale disclosure regime is limited. Investors in the wholesale market normally possess far more knowledge to assess the securities than retail investors, and thus need less disclosures from issuers. At the same time, we are in favour of evaluating the fit of the existing retail disclosure regime with the informational needs of retail investors, to ensure that the level of disclosure is adequate. Excessive disclosure is a cost to both investors (information overload) and issuers (compliance with rules that are unnecessary).

Question 18.3 Would you consider any other amendment to the existing rules?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know/ no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 18.3:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.1.4. Prospectus for SMEs

SMEs and other categories of beneficiaries (e.g. mid-caps listed on an SME growth market) defined in Article 15(1) of the Prospectus Regulation, can choose to draw up an EU growth prospectus for offers of securities to the public, provided that they have no securities admitted to trading on a regulated market. The EU growth prospectus is more alleviated than a standard prospectus, as it contains less disclosures (e.g. board practices, employees, important events in the development of the issuer’s business, operating and financial review) and in some cases more alleviated ones (e.g. principal activities, principal markets, organisational structure, investments, trend information, historical financial information, dividend policy). As this development is relatively recent, there is limited data available to assess whether the introduction of the EU growth prospectus has affected the average length of prospectuses for SMEs. However, feedback from market participants indicates that there has not been a substantial decrease in the length of documents submitted after July 2019.

Question 19. Do you believe that the EU growth prospectus strikes a proper balance between investor protection and the reduction of administrative burdens for SMEs?

- Yes
- No
- Don’t know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 19:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.1.5. The format and language of the prospectus

Electronic Prospectus

The Prospectus Regulation sets out an obligation for issuers to provide a copy of the prospectus on either a durable medium or printed upon request of any potential investor. It has been noted that, due to the current prevalence of digital mediums, this may be an unnecessary cost and administrative burden for issuers.

Question 20. Do you agree that the above mentioned obligation should be deleted and that a prospectus should only be provided in an electronic format as long as it is published in accordance with Article 21 of the Prospectus Regulation?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 20:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Language rules for the prospectus

The TESG in its final report argued that publishing a prospectus only in English, as the customary language in the sphere of international finance, independently from the official language of the home or host Member States could reduce the burden on companies offering securities in several Member States and contribute to creating a level playing field amongst market participants.

Question 21. Concerning the language rules laid down in Article 27 of the Prospectus Regulation, with which of the following statements do you agree?

- It should be allowed to publish a prospectus only in English, as the customary language in the sphere of international finance
- It should be allowed to publish a prospectus only in English, as the customary language in the sphere of international finance, except for the prospectus summary
- It should be allowed to publish a prospectus only in English, as the customary language in the sphere of international finance, for any cross-border offer or admission to trading on a regulated market, including when a security is offered/admitted to trading in the home Member State

- It should be allowed to publish a prospectus only in English, as the customary language in the sphere of international finance, for any cross-border offer or admission to trading on a regulated market, including when a security is offered/admitted to trading in the home Member State, except for the prospectus summary
- There is no need to change the current language rules laid down in Article 27 of the Prospectus Regulation
- Don't know/ no opinion / not relevant

2.1.6. The prospectus for secondary issuances of issuers already listed on a regulated market or an SME growth market and/or for transfer from a SME growth market to a regulated market

The Prospectus Regulation currently lays down a simplified regime for secondary issuances of companies whose securities have already been admitted to trading on a regulated market or on an SME growth market continuously and for at least the last 18 months. Such companies are already subject to periodic and ongoing disclosure requirements, such as under the Transparency Directive and the Market Abuse Regulation. It can therefore be argued that there is less of a need to require a prospectus for secondary issuances. A simplified prospectus for secondary issuances can also be used, in accordance with the conditions laid down in Article 14(1), point (d), of the Prospectus Regulation, to transfer from an SME growth market to a regulated market (aka “transfer prospectus”).

Furthermore, the capital markets recovery package introduced the new EU recovery Prospectus regime (Article 14a of the Prospectus Regulation) to allow for a rapid re-capitalisation of EU companies affected by the economic shock of the COVID-19 pandemic. The EU recovery prospectus consists on a single document, of only 30 pages and includes a 2 page-summary (neither the summary nor the information incorporated by reference are taken into account to determine the page-size limit), focusing on essential information that investors need to make an informed decision. This new short-form prospectus is meant to be easy to produce for issuers, easy to read for investors and easy to scrutinise for national competent authorities. The EU recovery prospectus is only available for secondary issuances of shares of issuers listed on a regulated market or an SME growth market continuously and for at least the last 18 months. It is currently intended as a temporary regime.

The TESG in its final report highlighted the need to further simplify the prospectus burden for subsequent admissions to trading or offers of fungible securities and recommended that a new simplified prospectus (replacing the current simplified prospectus for secondary issuances), similar in its form to the EU recovery prospectus, be adopted on a permanent basis for secondary issuances and for transfers from an SME growth market to a regulated market, provided that specific conditions are satisfied.

Question 22. Do you agree that, for issuers that have already been listed continuously and for at least the last 18 months on a regulated market or an SME growth market, the obligation to publish a prospectus could be lifted for any subsequent offer to the public and/or admission to trading of securities fungible with existing securities already issued (with a prospectus) without impairing investors’ protection?

- Yes
- No

- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 22:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 23. Since the application of the capital markets recovery package, have you seen the uptake in the use of the EU recovery prospectus?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 23:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.1.7. Liability regime

The obligation to publish a prospectus entails a civil liability regime for issuers. Infringements to the provisions of the Prospectus Regulation may lead to administrative sanctions and other administrative measures, in accordance with Article 38 of that Regulation and, depending on national law, criminal sanctions. The prospectus is sometimes referred to as a document that serves to shield from liability issues (i.e. the more information the better) rather than to support investors in taking informed investment decisions.

Question 25. Do you think that the current punitive regime under the Prospectus Regulation is proportionate to the objectives sought by legislation as well as the type and size of entities potentially covered by that regime?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 25, notably in terms of costs:

Question 26. Do you believe that the current civil liability regime under the Prospectus Regulation is adequately calibrated?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 27. Do you consider that the liability of national competent authorities' (NCAs) in relation to the prospectus approval process is adequately calibrated and consistent throughout the EU?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 28. According to your opinion, which administrative pecuniary sanctions (as prescribed in Article 38(2) of the Prospectus Regulation) have a higher impact on an issuer's decision to list?

	Pecuniary sanctions in respect of natural persons	Pecuniary sanctions in respect of legal persons
Issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 30. Do you think that the possibility of applying criminal sanctions in the case of non-compliance with any of the requirements specified in Article 38(1) of the Prospectus Regulation should be removed?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

2.1.8. Scrutiny and approval of the prospectus

Article 20 of the Prospectus Regulation lays down harmonised rules for the scrutiny and approval of the prospectus, with a view to fostering supervisory convergence throughout the EU. Article 20 also sets out the timelines for approving the prospectus, depending on the circumstances and type of document (e.g. prospectus for a first time offer of unlisted issuers, prospectus for issuers already listed or that have already offered securities to the public, EU recovery prospectus, prospectus which includes a URD). The criteria for the scrutiny of prospectuses, in particular the completeness, comprehensibility and consistency of the information contained therein, and the procedures for the approval of the prospectus are further specified in Chapter V of Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2019/980.

Question 31. Do you consider that there is alignment in the way national competent authorities assess the completeness, comprehensibility and consistency of the draft prospectuses that are submitted to them for approval?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 32. Do you consider the timelines for approval of the prospectus as prescribed in Article 20 of the Prospectus Regulation adequate?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 33.1 In its June 2020 report, the CMU HLF suggested that prospectuses could be made available to the public closer to the offer (e.g. in three working days). Should the minimum period of six working days between the publication of the prospectus and the end of an offer of shares (Article 21(1) of the Prospectus Regulation) be relaxed in order to facilitate swift book-building processes?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 33.1:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 33.2 Should a minimum period of days between the publication of a prospectus and the end of an offer be set out also for offer of non-equity securities, in particular to favour more retail participation?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 33.2:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Determination of the “Home Member State”

The Prospectus Regulation, Article 2(m), sets out rules for the determination of the home Member State. As a general rule, for issuers established in the EU, the home Member State corresponds to the Member State where the issue has its registered office. However, different rules apply for non-equity securities with a denomination per unit above EUR 1 000 and for certain non-equity hybrid securities for which the ‘Home Member State’ means the Member State where the issuer has its registered office, or where the securities were or are to be admitted to trading on a regulated market or where the securities are offered to the public, at the choice of the issuer, the offeror or the person asking for admission to trading on a regulated market.

Equity issuers established in the EU are therefore currently not able to choose their home Member State, while non-equity issuers established in the EU are allowed to do so, subject to the conditions laid down in Article 2(m), point (iii), of the Prospectus Regulation.

Question 34. Should the dual regime for the determination of the home Member State for non-equity and equity securities featured in Article 2(m) of the Prospectus Regulation be amended?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 34:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.1.9. The Universal Registration Document (URD)

Effective as of 2019, the co-legislators introduced a URD in the Prospectus Regulation, in line with the shelf registration principles already well-established in other financial markets, particularly in the US. A URD is a document that, after being approved for two consecutive years, is only to be filed each year (i.e. kept 'in the shelf') by frequent issuers. A URD contains information about company's organisation, business, financial position, earnings, etc., and facilitates the approval process of prospectuses of these issuers (e.g. approval time reduced by half) by national competent authorities. As a URD can be used for offers of both equity and non-equity securities, it is currently built on the more comprehensive registration document for equity securities.

The TESG in their Final Report highlighted that the URD regime, as currently designed, does not deliver on its objective, as only a very low number of issuers, and mostly in one Member State, have resorted to it.

Question 35. In your view, what are the main reasons for the lack of use of the URD among issuers across the EU?

Please select as many answers as you like

- The time period necessary to benefit from the status of frequent issuer is too lengthy
- The URD supervisory approval process is too lengthy
- The costs of regularly updating, supplementing and filing the URD are not outweighed by its benefits
- The URD content requirements are too burdensome
- The URD is not suitable for non-equity securities as it is built on the more comprehensive registration document for equity securities
- The URD language requirements are too burdensome
- Other

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 35:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 36. As the URD can only be used by companies already listed, should its content be aligned to the level of disclosures for secondary issuances (instead of primary issuances as currently) to increase its take up by both equity and non-equity issuers?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 36:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 37. Should the approval of a URD be required only for the first year (with a filing every year after)?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 37:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 38. Should a URD that has been approved or filed with the national competent authority be exempted from the scrutiny and approval process of the latter when it is used as a constituent part of a prospectus (i.e. the scrutiny and approval should be limited to the securities note and the summary)?

- Yes
- No

- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 38:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 39. Should issuers be granted the possibility to draw up the URD only in English for passporting purposes, notwithstanding the specific language requirements of the relevant home Member State?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 39:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 40. How could the URD regime be further simplified to make it more attractive to issuers across the EU?

Please explain your reasoning:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.1.10. Other possible areas for improvement

Article 23 of the Prospectus Regulation lays down rules for the supplement to the prospectus. As part of the Capital Market Recovery Package, the new paragraphs (2a) and (3a) were introduced with a view to providing more clarity on the obligation for financial intermediary to contact investors when a supplement is published, to increase the time window to do so and also to increase the time window for investors to exercise their withdrawal rights, where applicable. These new rules are only temporary and due to expire on 31 December 2022.

Question 41.1 Has the temporary regime for supplements laid down in Articles 23(2a) and 23(3a) of the Prospectus Regulation provided additional clarity and flexibility to both financial intermediaries and investors and should it be made permanent?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 41:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 41.2 Would you propose additional improvements?

Please explain your reasoning:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Equivalence regime

Article 29 of the Prospectus Regulation enables third country issuers to offer securities to the public in the EU or seek admission to trading on an EU regulated market made under a prospectus drawn up in accordance with the laws of third country, subject to the approval of the national competent authority of the EU home Member State, and provided that

- i. the information requirements imposed by those third country laws are equivalent to the requirements under the Prospectus Regulation
- ii. and the competent authority of the home Member State has concluded cooperation arrangements with the relevant supervisory authorities of the third country issuer in accordance with Article 30.

The Commission is empowered to adopt Delegated Acts to establish general equivalence criteria, based on the requirements laid down in Article 6, 7, 8 and 13 (essentially disclosure requirements only). The current rules are considered not workable, including the rules to adopt general equivalence criteria.

Question 42. Do you believe that the equivalence regime set out in Article 29 of the Prospectus Regulation, which is difficult to implement in its current version, should be amended to make it possible for the Commission to take equivalence decisions in order to allow third country issuers to access EU markets more easily with a prospectus drawn up in accordance with the law of a third country?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Other

Question 43. Would you have any other suggestions on possible improvements to the current prospectus rules laid down in the Prospectus Regulation?

2.2. Market Abuse Regulation (Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 April 2014 on market abuse)

The Market Abuse Regulation \('MAR'\) entered into full application in 2016, it provides requirements for market participants to ensure the integrity of the financial markets.

In view of the periodic review of MAR, the European Commission, in March 2019, requested ESMA to provide a technical advice on the review of MAR on a number of topics (including the notion of inside information, the conditions for delaying the disclosure of inside information, insider lists, managers' transactions and sanctions). On 3 October 2019, ESMA publicly consulted the market on its preliminary view of the technical advice. The consultation ended on 29 November 2019 and received 97 responses. In September 2020, ESMA published its technical advice addressing all the topics on which the Commission asked advice on and identified several other provisions which were considered important to review in MAR (‘ESMA TA’). According to ESMA, both the feedback to the consultation and NCAs experience indicate that, overall, the regime introduced by MAR works well. Accordingly, only a few targeted changes to the legislative framework have been recommended, sometimes to provide guidance at level 3 (e.g. on inside information and delayed disclosure of inside information). However, according to the CMU HLF and the TESG reports, there are a number of MAR provisions and requirements that may sometimes act as a disincentive for companies to list and remain listed on regulated markets and/or MTFs. The cost of complying with these requirements is deemed high, especially for SMEs. The legal uncertainty arising from certain provisions is indicated as an additional source of costs. Finally, the sanctioning regime is considered not proportionate and a discouraging factor for going and remaining public.

While the market abuse regime is crucial to safeguard market integrity and investor confidence, the Commission aims to assess if there is room for some targeted amendments and alleviations in the requirements laid down by MAR, in order to ensure proportionality and reduce burdens.

2.2.1. Costs and burden stemming from MAR

Question 44. For each of the MAR provisions listed below, please indicate how burdensome the EU regulation is for listed companies:

Definition of “inside information”:

	1 (not burdensome at all)	2 (rather not burdensome)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather burdensome)	5 (very burdensome)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
For all companies	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
For issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Disclosure of inside information:

	1 (not burdensome at all)	2 (rather not burdensome)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather burdensome)	5 (very burdensome)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
For all companies	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
For issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Conditions to delay disclosure of inside information:

	1 (not burdensome at all)	2 (rather not burdensome)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather burdensome)	5 (very burdensome)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable

For issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Drawing up and maintaining insiders lists:

	1 (not burdensome at all)	2 (rather not burdensome)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather burdensome)	5 (very burdensome)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
For all companies	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
For issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Market sounding:

	1 (not burdensome at all)	2 (rather not burdensome)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather burdensome)	5 (very burdensome)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
For all companies	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
For issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Disclosure of managers' transactions:

	1 (not burdensome at all)	2 (rather not burdensome)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather burdensome)	5 (very burdensome)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
For all companies	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
For issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Enforcement:

	1 (not burdensome at all)	2 (rather not burdensome)	3 (neutral)	4 (rather burdensome)	5 (very burdensome)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
For all companies	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
For issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

If there are other MAR provisions that you find burdensome for listed companies, please specify which ones and indicate to what extent they are burdensome for listed companies:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 44, and, if possible, provide supporting evidence, notably in terms of costs (one-off and ongoing costs):

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.2.2. Scope of application of MAR (Article 2)

According to Article 2(1)(b), MAR applies to financial instruments traded or admitted to trading on a multilateral trading facility (MTF) or for which a request for admission to trading on an MTF has been made. In the latter case, MAR would start to apply with respect to companies that have only submitted a request but are not yet trading on an MTF. Some stakeholders underline that, as securities are not yet traded at the moment of the submission of a request, investors cannot acquire them and hence the protections under MAR are not necessary.

Question 45. In your opinion, if MAR requirements started applying only as of the moment of trading, would there be potential cases of market abuse between the submission of the request for admission to trading and the actual first day of trading?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 45:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.2.3. The definition of “inside information” and the conditions to delay its disclosure

Currently the notion of inside information makes no distinction between its application in the context, on the one hand, of market abuse and, on the other hand, of the obligation to publicly disclose inside information. However, inside information can undergo different levels of maturity and degree of precision through its lifecycle and therefore it might be argued that in certain situations inside information is mature enough to trigger a prohibition of market abuse but insufficiently mature to be disclosed to the public.

According to stakeholders, the current definition of inside information may raise problems, notably (i) for the issuer, the problem of identification of when the information becomes “inside information” and (ii) for the market, the risk of relying on published information which is not yet mature enough to make investment decisions.

ESMA, however, considers that the current definition of inside information “strikes a good balance between being sufficiently comprehensive to cater for a variety of market abuse behaviours, and sufficiently prescriptive to enable market participants, in most cases, to identify when information becomes inside information” and recommended to leave the definition unchanged. ESMA however acknowledged that clarifications were sought by stakeholders both on the general interpretation of certain paragraphs of Article 7 of MAR (for instance, as regards intermediate steps, or the level of certainty needed to consider the information as precise), and on concrete scenarios. Therefore, ESMA stands ready to issue guidance on the definition of inside information under MAR.

Question 46. Do you consider that clarifications provided by ESMA in the form of guidance would be sufficient to provide the necessary clarifications around the notion of inside information?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 46:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

In some jurisdictions outside the EU, in addition to regulatory quarterly reports, issuers are only under the obligation to publicly disclose, on a rapid and current basis, information about material changes that might take place between quarterly reports, in relation to a pre-determined number of events. Those events are predefined and include the entry into (or termination of) a material definitive agreement, the issuer filing for bankruptcy or receivership, a material acquisition or disposition, a modification of the rights of security holders or the appointment or departure of directors or key managers. There may also be other types of inside information that the company would not be obliged to disclose publicly but may decide to do so nevertheless on a voluntary basis.

Question 47.1 Do you consider that a system relying on the concept of material events for the disclosure of inside information would provide more clarity?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 47.1:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 47.2 In your opinion, would such a system pose any challenge to the integrity of the market?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 47.2:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Article 17(4) of MAR allows, under specified conditions, to delay the disclosure of inside information. The regime of delayed disclosure of inside information is intimately interconnected with the definition of inside information. Any clarifications provided on delayed disclosures would thus have de facto an impact on when the information has to be considered as inside information.

Some stakeholders underline that there are currently interpretative challenges around the conditions to delay disclosure, especially in relation to when the delay is not likely to mislead the public. ESMA in its final report acknowledged the existence of interpretative challenges, but did not consider it necessary to amend the conditions for the application of the delay finding them reasonable and aligned with the overall market abuse regime. However ESMA engaged into revising its guidelines on delay in the disclosure of inside information.

Question 48. Do you consider that the revision of ESMA’s Guidelines on delay in the disclosure of inside information would be sufficient to provide the necessary clarifications?

- Yes
- No
- Don’t know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 48:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.2.4. Disclosure of inside information for issuers of bonds only

The TESG underlines that plain vanilla bonds are less exposed to risks of market abuse due to the nature of the instrument and, as a consequence, argues that the disclosure of all inside information for debt issuers (either positive or negative) only would be burdensome and not justified.

Question 49. Please specify whether you agree with the following statements:

Issuers that only issue plain vanilla bonds should:

	Yes	No	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
have the same disclosure requirements as equity issuers	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
disclose only information that is likely to impair their ability to repay their debt	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 49, notably in terms of costs (one-off and ongoing costs):

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.2.5. Managers' transactions

Under MAR, the Person Discharging Managerial Responsibilities (PDMR) or associated person must notify the issuer (either on a regulated market or a MTF, including SME growth market) and the competent authority of every transaction conducted for their own account relating to those financial instruments, no later than three business days after the transaction. The obligation to disclose a manager's transaction only applies once the PDMR's transactions have reached a cumulative EUR 5 000 within a calendar year (with no netting). A national competent authority may decide to increase the threshold to EUR 20 000. Issuers must ensure that transactions by PDMRs and persons closely associated with are publicly disclosed promptly and no later than two business days after the transaction.

Most respondents to the consultation launched by ESMA in the context of the technical advice for the Review of MAR (ESMA final report on MAR review, paragraph 8.2) considered that the current threshold (EUR 5 000) for managers' transaction is too low and that it could result in disclosing not meaningful transactions. Those respondents prefer a higher thresholds harmonised within the EU (possibly at the optional threshold of EUR 20 000). ESMA, however, recommended not to amend such requirement considering that the current threshold is appropriate in several Member States to provide for a fair picture of managers transactions. ESMA also recommended not to amend the reporting methodology for subsequent transactions or the regime for the disclosure of closely associated persons. On the contrary, both the TESG final report and the CMU HLF final report propose to increase the threshold for managers' transactions. Moreover, the TESG holds that the requirement to keep a list of closely associated persons should be repealed, as it entails costs that are disproportionate to the benefits offered.

In order for the Commission to strike the right balance between the burden associated with these requirements and the specific need for an efficient supervision of the integrity of the financial markets it is useful to gather quantitative data on how much those requirements weight on issuers.

Question 50. Do you believe that the minimum amount of EUR 5 000 provided in Article 19(8) MAR should be increased without harming the market integrity and investor confidence?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 50:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 51. Do you agree with maintaining the discretion for national competent authorities to increase the threshold set out in Article 19(8)?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 51:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 52.1 If you are an issuer to whom MAR applies or an NCA, please specify how many notifications you have received in the last 2 years according to Article 19(1):

	Threshold of EUR 5 000	Threshold of EUR 20 000
2019
2020

Question 52.2 How would the above figures change in case of an increased threshold under Article 19(8) of MAR?

(Percentages represent how many less notifications (in % terms) would you receive in case of an increased threshold under Article 19(8))

	EUR 10 000	EUR 15 000	EUR 20 000	EUR 50 000	Other	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
0% -10%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
11% -20%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
21% -35%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
36% -50%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
more than 50%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 52.2:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 53.1 Please provide the approximate level of costs related to disclosure of managers' transactions in the last 2 years:

	Threshold of EUR 5 000	Threshold of EUR 20 000
2019 2020

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 53.1:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 53.2 Please provide the estimated level of cost savings (in % terms) in case of an increased threshold under Article 19(8):

(Percentages represent the estimated cost savings (in % terms) in case of an increased threshold in Article 19 (8))

	EUR 10 000	EUR 15 000	EUR 20 000	EUR 50 000	Other	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
0% -10%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
11% -20%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
21% -35%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
36% -50%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
more than 50%	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 53.2:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 54. Would you consider that public disclosure of managers' transactions should always be done by:

- Issuer
- National competent authority
- Either by issuer or national competent authority, depending on national law (status quo)
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 54:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 55. Do you consider that ESMA's proposed targeted amendments to Article 19\(12\) MAR are sufficient to alleviate the managers' transactions regime?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 55:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.2.6. Insider lists (Article 18)

While insider lists are supposed to assist NCAs in investigating cases of insider trading, stakeholders underline that the maintenance of insiders list require regular monitoring and adjustment and are particularly burdensome. As a result of the SME Listing Act, issuers whose financial instruments are admitted to trading on an SME growth market have been entitled to include in their lists only those persons who, due to the nature of their function or position within the issuer, have regular access to inside information. At the same time, Member States may opt out from such regime and require more information.

In light of the fact that national competent authorities consider the insider lists to be a key tool in market abuse investigations, in its final report on the review of the Market Abuse Regulation, ESMA did not suggest extensive alleviations to the insiders list rules, proposing only minor adaptations to the current regime.

The TESG however found the costs of the insiders list for smaller issuers too high and recommended to remove the obligation for issuers with a market capitalisation below EUR 1 billion to keep an insider list, and to further reduce and simplify the content of the insider list for other issuers.

Question 56. What is the impact (or if not available – expected impact) of the recent alleviations (under the SME Listing Act) for SME growth market issuers as regards insider lists?

Please illustrate and quantify, notably in terms of (expected) reduction in costs, and please explain your reasoning:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 57. Please indicate whether you agree with the statements below:

The insider list regime should...:

	Yes	No	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
be simplified for all issuers to ensure that only the most essential information for identification purposes is included	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
be simplified further for issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
be repealed for issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

other	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
-------	-----------------------	-----------------------	-----------------------

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 57 and provide supporting arguments/evidence, in particular in terms of savings/reduction in costs:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.2.7. Market sounding

Conducting market soundings may require disclosure to potential investors of inside information. However, market soundings are a highly valuable tool for the proper functioning of financial markets, and, as such, they should not be regarded as market abuse. The current regime requires the disclosing market participant, before engaging in a market sounding, to

- i. assesses whether that market sounding involves the disclosure of inside information
- ii. inform the person to whom the disclosure is made of the possibility of receiving inside information and of all the consequential requirements
- iii. and maintain records of the disclosure

In the context of the public consultation launched in 2017 for the preparation of the SME Listing Act, several stakeholders described the requirements for conducting market sounding as burdensome, particularly in connection with private placements. Due to concerns on the risk of unlawful dissemination of inside information, market sounding rules were then only alleviated for private placements of debt instruments. The TESG, in its final report, however proposed to extend the exemption from market sounding rules to private equity placements.

The public consultation carried out by ESMA in 2020 for the MAR review final report confirmed stakeholders' concerns on the complexity of the market sounding regime and their request to reduce the scope of the market sounding regime. Nonetheless, ESMA recommended to keep the current scope of the market sounding regime unchanged and rather look into ways to simplify the market sounding procedures (ESMA final report paragraphs 6.3.3 and ff.).

Question 58. Do you consider that the ESMA's limited proposals to amend the market sounding procedure are sufficient, while providing a balanced solution to the need to simplify the burden and maintaining the market integrity?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 59. Do you agree with the TESG proposal to extend the exemption from market sounding rules to private equity placements for all issuers?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain and illustrate your reasoning of your answer to question 59, notably in terms of costs:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.2.8. Administrative and criminal sanctions

Both the CMU HLF as well as the TESG share the view that in some cases sanctions for market abuse violations are disproportionate and that the risk of an inadvertent breach of MAR (notably in the case of missing deadlines for disclosure of information) and associated administrative sanctions are seen as an important factor that dissuades companies from listing. They both proposed to amend the current framework in order to establish a more proportionate punitive regime. Moreover, the TESG proposed to remove the possibility of applying criminal sanctions in the case of noncompliance with the requirements set out in Articles 17, 18 and 19, as administrative sanctions (including accessory sanctions and the confiscation of the profit made from the unlawful conduct) are sufficiently suitable for sanctioning MAR violations under those provisions.

At the same time, ESMA disagrees that the level of the MAR sanctions is tailored to large companies and stresses that MAR does not oblige NCAs to impose maximum administrative sanctions and, on the contrary, obliges NCAs to take into account all relevant circumstances when determining the type and level of administrative sanctions.

Question 60. Do you think that the current punitive regime (both administrative pecuniary sanctions and criminal sanctions) under MAR is proportionate to the objectives sought by legislation (i.e., to dissuade market abuse), as well as the type and size of entities potentially covered by that regime?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain and illustrate your reasoning of your answer to question 60, notably in terms of costs:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 61. Do you think that the maximum administrative pecuniary sanctions (as prescribed in Article 30 MAR) are an important factor when making a decision by companies concerning potential listing?

	Yes, it has a significant impact	Yes, it has a medium impact	Yes, but it has a low impact	No, it is rather irrelevant	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
Issuers listed on SME growth markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 61:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 62. According to your opinion, which administrative pecuniary sanctions (as prescribed in Article 30 MAR) have a higher impact on a company when making a decision concerning potential listing?

	Pecuniary sanctions in respect of natural persons	Pecuniary sanctions in respect of legal persons

Art. 19	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Question 64. Should the “total annual turnover according to the last available accounts approved by the management body” as a criterion to define the maximum administrative pecuniary sanctions be replaced with a different criterion?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 65. Do you think that the maximum administrative pecuniary sanction for infringements of Article 16-19 (in respect of natural persons) should be decreased?

Issuers listed on SME growth markets

Question 66. Should the level of maximum administrative pecuniary sanctions with respect to natural persons be defined according to a different criterion?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Question 67. Should the maximum administrative pecuniary sanctions for the other infringements specified in article 30(1)(a) of MAR and different from the infringements of Articles 16, 17, 18 and 19, be decreased accordingly?

	Yes	No	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 68. Do you think that the possibility of applying criminal sanctions in the case of noncompliance with the requirements set out in Articles 16, 17, 18, 19 and 30(1)(b) of MAR should be removed?

	Yes	No	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable

2.2.9. Liquidity contracts

Liquidity in an issuer’s shares can be achieved through liquidity mechanisms such as liquidity contracts concluded between an intermediary (dealer/broker) and an issuer to support liquidity in that issuer’s securities on secondary markets.

The TESG recommended to remove the obligation on market operators to “agree to the contracts’ terms and conditions” , defined by issuers and investments firms in liquidity contracts used on SME growth markets, given the fact that market operators are not a party to the issuer liquidity contract.

Question 69. Do you agree with the TESG proposal to remove the obligation on market operators to “agree to the contracts’ terms and conditions”, defined by issuers and investment firms in liquidity contracts used on SME growth markets?

- Yes
- No
- Don’t know / no opinion / not relevant

2.2.10. Disclosure obligation related to the presentation of recommendations under MAR

Commission Delegated Regulation \(EU\) 2016/958 of 9 March 2016 lays down standards on the investment recommendations or other information recommending or suggesting an investment strategy. These standards aims at ensuring the objective, clear and accurate presentation of such information and the disclosure of interests and conflicts of interest. They should be complied with by persons producing or disseminating recommendations.

In order to boost research coverage on smaller issuers, the TESG in their final report argued that investment recommendations or other information recommending or suggesting an investment strategy should be exempted from the requirements laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) No. 2016/958 when they relate exclusively to instruments admitted to trading on a SME growth market, or at the least alleviated for such instruments.

Question 70. In your opinion, should investment recommendations or other information recommending or suggesting an investment strategy be exempted from the requirements laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation \(EU\) No. 2016/958 when they relate exclusively to instruments admitted to trading on a SME growth market?

- Yes

2.3. MiFID II (Directive 2014/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 May 2014 on markets in financial instruments)

The Directive on Markets in Financial Instruments \(MiFID II – Directive 2014/65/EU\) is one of the pillars of the EU regulation of financial markets. It promotes financial markets that are fair, transparent, efficient and integrated.

However, some stakeholders believe that there is room for targeted adjustments to this directive in order to ease and accommodate listing rules for EU entities. This is particularly true for the SMEs, according to the HLF, the TESG and ESMA's report on the functioning of the regime for SME growth markets that all bring up specific points within MiFID II that could be modified in order to incentivise listing. In some cases the ESMA's and stakeholder's suggestions were aimed at clarifying certain provisions within MiFID II while in others they sought to increase SMEs' visibility and attractiveness towards investors.

2.3.1. Registration of a segment of an MTF as SME growth market

ESMA in their Q&A provided a clarification setting out the conditions under which an operator of an MTF may register a segment of the MTF as SME growth market: "the operator of an MTF can apply for a segment of the MTF to be registered as an SME growth market when the requirements and criteria set out in Article 33 of MiFID II and Articles 77 and 78 of the Commission Delegated Regulation 2017/565 are met in respect of that segment". This clarification has proven useful to market participants based on feedback the ESMA received and has incentivised some MTFs to seek registration as SME growth markets only for a market segment and not for the entire MTF.

ESMA suggested that similar clarification in MiFID II level 1 would be beneficial as it could bring legal certainty and increase the number of registered SME growth markets.

Question 72. Would you see merit in including in MiFID II Level 1 the conditions under which an operator of an MTF may register a segment of the MTF as SME growth market?

- Yes
- No

2.3.2. Dual listing

Article 33(7) of MiFID sets out provisions for dual listing and potential obligations for issuers. It has been argued that Article 33(7) is being interpreted by the NCAs in a way that company seeking a dual listing can do so only through a third party and not by themselves. Moreover, ESMA in its report on the SME growth market proposed to amend MIFID II to specify that if an issuer is admitted to trading on one SME growth market, the financial instrument may also be traded on any other trading venue (as opposed to only on another SME growth market as Article 33(7) of MiFID currently states). This can be done only where the issuer has been informed and has not objected, and complies with any further regulatory requirement compulsory on the second trading venue.

Question 73. Do you believe that Article 33(7) of MiFID II would benefit from further clarification in level 1 to ensure an interpretation whereby the issuers themselves can request a dual listing?

- Yes

Question 74. Do you believe that, subject to the conditions set out in Article 33(7) of MiFID II, financial instruments of an issuer, admitted to trading on an SME growth market, could be traded on another venue (and not necessarily only on another SME growth market)?

2.3.3. Equity Research coverage for SMEs

Public markets for SMEs need to be supported by a healthy ecosystem (i.e. a network of brokers, equity analysts, credit rating agencies, investors specialised in SMEs) that can bring small firms seeking a listing to the market and support them after the IPO. The absence or limited existence of those local ecosystems that can cater to SMEs' specific needs impedes the functioning and deepening of public markets and reduces the willingness of SMEs to seek a listing. Equity research is of particular importance for SMEs given that they have lower visibility than large cap firms and information is more opaque and scarce.

Today, equity research is produced by brokers on an un-sponsored (independent) as well as sponsored basis (company pays for the research), by independent research houses, and to a lesser extent also in house by fund managers. SMEs are, however, often not covered at all by research analysts as there is not enough market interest to justify the additional cost for the broker.

The capital markets recovery package has introduced a targeted exemption to allow investment firms to bundle research and execution costs when it comes to research on companies whose market capitalisation did not exceed Euro 1 billion for the period of 36 months preceding the provision of the research. This change is intended to increase research coverage for such issuers, and in particular for SMEs, thereby improving their access to capital market finance.

Question 75. Do you consider that the alleviation to the research regime introduced with the capital markets recovery package has effectively helped (or will help) to support SMEs' access to the capital markets?

2.4 Other possible areas for improvement

2.4.1 Transparency Directive (Directive 2004/109/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 December 2004 on the harmonisation of transparency requirements in relation to information about issuers whose securities are admitted to trading on a regulated market)

Transparency of publicly traded companies' activities is essential for the proper functioning of capital markets. Investors need reliable and timely information about the business performance and assets of the companies they invest in and about their ownership.

The Transparency Directive \(Directive 2004/109/EC\) requires issuers of securities traded on EU regulated markets to make their activities transparent, by regularly publishing certain information. The information to be published includes

- i. yearly and half-yearly financial reports
- ii. major changes in the holding of voting rights
- iii. ad hoc inside information which could affect the price of securities

This information must be released in a manner that benefits all investors equally across the EU.

The Transparency Directive was amended in 2013 by Directive 2013/50/EU to reduce the administrative burdens on smaller issuers, particularly by abolishing the requirement to publish quarterly financial reports, and make the transparency system more efficient, in particular as regards the publication of information on voting rights held through derivatives.

The Commission has recently adopted a harmonised electronic format for annual financial reports developed by ESMA (the European Single Electronic Format, ESEF). The ESEF has been applicable since 1 January 2021, except for 23 Member States who opted for a 1-year postponement. It makes reporting easier and facilitates accessibility, analysis and comparability of reports.

The Commission published in April 2021 a fitness check report accompanying the Commission report to the European Parliament and the Council on – inter alia – the operation of the 2013 amendment to the Transparency Directive. These reports indicate an overall good effectiveness of the corporate reporting framework, while highlighting areas for potential improvement, for instance in relation to supervision and enforcement.

Question 82. Do you consider that there is potential to simplify the Transparency Directive's rules on disclosures of annual and half-yearly financial reports and on the ongoing transparency requirements for major changes in the holders of voting rights, keeping in mind the need to facilitate accessibility, analysis and comparability of issuers' information and to maintain a high level of investor protection on these markets?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

2.4.2 Special Purpose Acquisition Companies (SPACs)

In the course of the COVID-19 pandemic, the capital markets saw a surge of SPACs listings. If this SPACs' phenomenon was much stronger in the US, some EU markets also saw the rise of the listing of these particular vehicles. The fact that privately held operating companies were seeking a reverse merger to access public markets by means of a listed shell company such as SPAC appeared for some as a sign that the traditional IPO process was in need of reform. However, after a promising trend during the first half of 2021, the second half of 2021 showed that SPACs IPOs were already losing some steam, at least on the EU markets, in favour of more traditional IPOs.

Some argue that SPACs may play a useful role, in particular for start-ups and scale-ups, when the economic situation is dire and access to public markets becomes more difficult.

Although SPAC IPOs present weaknesses and risks that investors, in particular retail ones, should be aware of. Although, if SPACs' offers in the EU are mainly addressed to professional investors, SPACs' shares may be available for purchase by retail investors on the secondary markets. In that respect, in July 2021, ESMA published the statement "SPACs: prospectus disclosure and investor protection considerations" \(ESMA32-384-5209\) to promote coordinated action by EU regulators on the scrutiny of prospectus disclosures relating to SPACs and provide guidance to manufacturers and distributors of SPAC shares and warrants about MiFID II product governance provisions.

The purpose of this consultation is to get your view as to the appropriateness of the current listing regime when considering an IPO via a SPAC.

Question 84. Do you believe that SPACs are an effective and efficient alternative to traditional IPOs that could facilitate more listings on public markets in the EU?

2.4.3 Listing Directive (Directive 2001/34/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 28 May 2001 on the admission of securities to official stock exchange listing and on information to be published on those securities)

The Listing Directive \(Directive 2001/34/EC\) concerns securities for which admission to official listing is requested and those admitted, irrespective of the legal nature of their issuer. The Listing Directive aims to coordinate the rules with regard to

- i. admitting securities to official stock-exchange listing
- ii. the information to be published on those securities in order to provide equivalent protection for investors at EU level.

The Prospectus Directive and the Transparency Directive further consolidated rules harmonising the conditions for the provision of information regarding requests for the admission of securities to official stock-exchange listing and the information on securities admitted to trading. Therefore, those directives amended the Listing Directive removing overlapping requirements (i.e. deleting Articles 3, 4, 20 to 41, 65 to 104 and 108 of the Listing Directive). Furthermore, MiFID replaced the notion of ‘admission to the official listing’ with ‘admission to trading on a regulated market’.

The Listing Directive is a minimum harmonisation directive. It allows EU Member States to put in place additional requirements for admission of securities to official listing, provided that

- i. such additional conditions apply to all issuers
- ii. and they have been published before the application for admission of such securities

Question 92. Do you consider that the Listing Directive, in its current form, achieves its objectives and does not need to be amended?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 92:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

In general, we believe the Listing Directive still achieves its objectives and is very important for EU capital markets. The concept of “official listing” is an important aspect of public markets that needs to be maintained. National regimes based on the Listing Directive provide support for key advantages offered by market operators and favoured by investors, such as official lists (and listing rules) and dual-listing, which enable the inclusion of innovative products in investment portfolios. The ‘admission to trading’ regime under MiFID II, which is fundamentally different, does not provide the same advantages.

Any amendments to the regime should be strictly serve the simplification of the regime and integrating it in the current securities regulation landscape; it should otherwise remain intact.

2.4.3.1. Definitions

2.4 3.2. Listing conditions

Question 94. Do you consider that the broad flexibility that the Listing Directive leaves to Member States and competent authorities on the application of the rules for the admission to the official listing of shares and debt securities is appropriate in light of local market conditions?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 94:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

The broad flexibility is appropriate, in fact crucial. Despite the existence of harmonising regulations, local capital markets have and always will have local particularities that are best dealt with the primacy of local oversight, i.e. oversight by Member States and competent authorities for listing. They are best placed to supervise these markets and facilitate their functioning and integration in the Capital Markets Union. As top-down primary supervision by European authorities lacks local embedding and must cater to multiple local markets simultaneously in a one-size-fits-all approach, its application of the rules is less effective by default.

Specific conditions for the admission of shares

Chapter II of Title III of the Listing Directive sets out specific rules for the admission to the official listing of shares of companies. However, a rather broad discretion is given to Member States or competent authorities to deviate from those rules to take into account specific local market conditions. The Listing Directive sets out, among others, rules on the foreseeable market capitalisation of the shares to be admitted to the official listing, (Article 43), on the publication or filing of the company's annual accounts (Article 44), on the free transferability of the shares (Article 46), on the minimum free float (Article 48) and on shares of third country companies (Article 51).

a) Expected market capitalisation: The foreseeable market capitalisation of the shares for which admission to official listing is sought or, if this cannot be assessed, the company's capital and reserves, including profit or loss, from the last financial year, must be at least one million euro (Article 43(1)).	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 95.3:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

The free float is the portion of a company's issued share capital that is in the hands of public investors, as opposed to company officers, directors, or shareholders that hold controlling interests. These are the shares that are deemed to be freely available for trading. The recommendation of 25% free float set out in Article 48 dates back to 2001. It allows the Member States' discretion in setting the percentage of the shares that would be needed to be floated at the time of listing. According to information received from stakeholders, the percentages in the EU-27 vary from 5% to 45%.

Question 97. Are there other provisions relating to the admission of shares, set out in Title III, Chapter II of the Listing Directive, that you would propose to change?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Specific conditions for the admission of debt securities

Chapter III of Title III of the Listing Directive sets out specific conditions for the admission to the official listing of debt securities issued by an undertaking. In particular, the Listing Directive sets out rules on the free transferability of the debt securities (Article 54), the minimum amount of the loan (Article 58), convertible or exchangeable debentures and debentures with warrants (Article 59). As for shares, the Listing Directive leaves wide discretion to Member States or competent authorities to deviate from those rules in light of specific local market conditions. Finally, Articles 60 to 63 set out rules relating to sovereign debt securities.

Question 98. Do you consider the provisions relating to the admission to official listing of debt securities issued by an undertaking, set out in Title III, Chapter III and IV of the Listing Directive (e.g. amount of the loan, rules on convertible or exchangeable debentures, rules on sovereign debt), adequate?

2.4.4 Shares with multiple voting rights

Loss of control is widely cited by unlisted companies as the most important reason for staying private. Equity-raising very often generates a tension between existing owners, who rarely want to cede control of their business, and new investors who want to have control over their investment. This tension affects in particular family-owned companies but also the founders of tech, science and other high-growth companies who are often interested in preserving their ability to influence the strategic direction of the company after going public.

In order to encourage companies to list without owners having to relinquish control of their companies, multiple voting right shares have been used in a number of EU countries and have been highlighted as an efficient control-enhancing mechanism.

It is however worth noting that currently only some Member States allow for multiple voting rights. Amongst Member States that do allow multiple voting right share structures there are divergences as to the maximum allowed voting rights ratio.

Whilst multiple voting rights allow founders to keep control over their business, they may also make it easier for owners to extract private benefits to the detriment of investors, for instance by engaging in related-party transactions. The trade-off associated with multiple voting rights has led some countries to allow these types of shares provided that they include a sunset clause i.e. after a certain period, the shares with additional voting rights become regular shares. This safeguard aims at making sure that founders do not have indefinite control over their companies.

Both the HLF as well as the TESC stated that multiple voting right shares are a key ingredient for improving the attractiveness and competitiveness of European public market ecosystems and that allowing them across the whole EU would/could facilitate the transition of companies from private to public markets.

Question 101. Do you believe that, where allowed, the use of shares with multiple voting rights has effectively encouraged more firms to seek a listing on public markets?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 101 and substantiate with evidence where possible:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 102.1 In your opinion, what impact do shares with multiple voting rights have on the attractiveness of a company for investors?

- Negative impact
- Slightly negative impact
- Neutral
- Slightly positive impact
- Positive impact
- Don't know / no opinion / not applicable

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 102.1:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 102.2 When shares with multiple voting rights are allowed, do you believe limits to the voting rights attached to a single share improve the attractiveness of the company to investors?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 102.2:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 103. Do you believe that the inclusion of sunset clauses (i.e. clauses that eliminate higher voting rights after a designated period of time) have proved useful in striking a proper balance between founders' and investors' interests?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please illustrate the reasoning of your answer to question 103, namely in terms of advantages and disadvantages:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 104. Would you see merit in stipulating in EU law that issuers across the EU may be able to list on any EU trading venues following the multiple voting rights structure?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please illustrate the reasoning of your answer to question 104, namely in terms of advantages and disadvantages:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 105. Do you have any other suggestion on how to make listing more attractive from the standpoint of companies' founders?

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.4.5 Corporate Governance standards for companies listed on SME growth markets

Good corporate governance and transparency are deemed essential for the success of any company and in particular to those seeking access to capital markets. When issuers are governed according to principles of good corporate governance, they will find it easier to tap capital markets and attract investors. As issuers listed on SME growth markets do not need to comply with the Shareholder Rights Directive \(2007/36/EC, as amended\) or Transparency Directive \(2004/109/EC, as amended\), some market participants see merit in setting minimum corporate governance requirements applicable to these issuers in order to reassure investors. Institutional investors in particular may fear reputational risk when investing in companies listed on SME growth markets and find them not sufficiently attractive.

Question 106. Would you see merit in introducing minimum corporate governance requirements for companies listed on SME growth market with the aim of making them more attractive for investors?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 106:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Please explain the reasoning of your answers to question 106, notably on the advantages and disadvantages of the preferred option:

2000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 107.1 Please indicate the corporate governance requirements that would be the most needed and would have the most impact to increase the attractiveness of issuers listed on SME growth markets:

	1 (no impact)	2 (almost no impact)	3 (some positive impact)	4 (significant positive impact)	5 (very significant positive impact)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
Requirement to report related party transactions (i.e. issuers would have to publicly announce material transactions with related parties at the time of the conclusion of such transaction and to adopt an internal procedure to assess and manage these transactions in order to protect the interests of the company)	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Additional disclosure duties regarding the acquisition/ disposal of voting rights as required by the Transparency Directive for major shareholdings in companies with shares traded on Regulated Markets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Introduction of minimum requirements for the delisting of shares: Supermajority approval (e.g. 75% or 90% of shareholders attending the meeting) for shareholders resolutions which directly or indirectly lead to the issuer's delisting (including merger or similar transactions)	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Introduction of minimum requirements for the delisting of shares: Sell-out rights assigned to minority shareholders if the company is delisted or if one shareholder owns more than 90% or 95% of the share capital.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Appointment of at least one independent director (independence should be understood according to para. 13.1. of Commission's recommendation 2005/162/EC)	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Other	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 107.1:

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 107.2 In your opinion, what would be the impact on the costs of listing and staying listed if the following corporate governance requirements were introduced for issuers listed on SME growth markets:

	1 (no impact)	2 (almost no impact)	3 (some positive impact)	4 (significant positive impact)	5 (very significant positive impact)	Don't know - No opinion - Not applicable
Requirement to report related party transactions (i.e. issuers would have to publicly announce material transactions with related parties at the time of the conclusion of such transaction and to adopt an internal procedure to assess and manage these transactions in order to protect the interests of the company)	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Other	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Please explain the reasoning of your answer to question 107.2, and, if possible, provide supporting evidence, notably in terms of costs (one-off and ongoing costs):

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

Question 108. Do you have any other suggestion on how to make issuers listed on SME growth markets more attractive to investors?

4000 character(s) maximum

including spaces and line breaks, i.e. stricter than the MS Word characters counting method.

2.4.6. Gold-plating by NCAs and/or Member States

Question 109. Are you aware of any cases of gold-plating by NCAs or Member States in relation to EU rules applicable both to companies going through a listing process and to companies already listed on EU public markets? Please note that for the purposes of this consultation gold-plating should be understood as encompassing all measures imposed by NCAs and /or Member States that go beyond what is required at EU level (i.e. it does not relate to existing national discretions and options in EU legislation).

- Yes
- No
- Don't know / no opinion / not relevant
